Santa Ana College
Distance Education: Participation, Demographics and Course Success
March 2015

Santa Ana College offers a wide range of distance education sections each semester, predominately via online delivery. As this type of learning gains in popularity, it is important to continually assess enrollments and outcomes so that we may remain current with the course variety and content needs of our community and the students we serve. This publication demonstrates the differences of online course offerings at SAC as compared to the traditional classroom delivery, including number of sections offered, student demographics, course success and retention

Summary of Findings

Overall, the number of sections offered in distance education in Fall 2014 increased from Fall 2013 (nine percentage points). Web section offerings continue to increase since Fall 2010 (52 to 102 ), while the number of hybrid (combination of online with some campus visits) sections held steady at about 50 sections a semester. On average, both headcounts and enrollments in web classes increased since Fall 2010 ( $44 \%$ and $56 \%$ respectively); however, headcounts and enrollments for hybrid classes dropped during the same time period ( $7 \%$ and $10 \%$ respectively). Distance education classes are defined by delivery type (web based or hybrid); therefore, data is broken down even further to assist program staff in defining specific strategies for specific teaching delivery.

Enrollments, Course Success, Retention

 one section. Percent distributions are significantly influenced by small sample sizes and caution should be used when comparisons are made. Many classes were offered in one method of instruction and do not have comparison data.
$>\quad$ In most cases, distance education classes (Spring 2014 and Fall 2014) have slightly lower success for similar courses offered in traditional classrooms ( $59 \%$ to $64 \%$ versus $63 \%$ to $64 \%$ ).
> For the first time, Fall 2014 web course total success rate is slightly higher than the traditional course total success rate.
$>\quad$ Both web and hybrid classes have lower retention rates ( $73 \%$ to $79 \%$ ) compared to traditional classes ( $79 \%$ to $81 \%$ ).
$>\quad$ Detailed course success and retention rates (by subject/course/ticket for Spring 2014 and Fall 2014 (by semester) are included below.
