Dear Nomination and Selection Committee Members,

I am nominating Maria Gil for the Classified Employee Award. Maria is an outstanding employee whose excellence is widely recognized by administrators and staff at the district, the colleges, the state, and all those who have the opportunity to work with her.

What is written below is an attempt to convey how outstanding Maria is, and how recognition of her character and performance is well deserved and due.

- Professionalism in the performance of their job

Everyone who works with Maria is impressed by the quality of her work and professional demeanor. People go out of their way to come up to me or email me to express their respect for her, and share how her help was critical to resolving their issues or saving them from difficult situations. Her skills and knowledge are widely respected and recognized by the colleges and district administrators and staff that work with her. Maria is consistent in patiently helping those who need it, multiple times. She is service-oriented and contributes to maintaining that general spirit and approach in our department.

Maria demonstrates exceptional professionalism. She is thorough and considerate in the performance of her work, as she sets a high standard for herself. Our fiscal agent grants are complex with multiple (up to 100s) of partners, with different budgets, multiple funding years, in various states of approval, completion and modification. Maria is able to effectively manage this complexity and guide the field through clear and effective guidance and communication. Leaders at the state, colleges, and Key Talent respond to her work, because what she delivers is of such high quality that it instills confidence, reliability and trust in those who work with her.

RSCCD is widely recognized for its successful Resource Development Department. There is a team working behind the scene to make it happen. All in our department would agree that Maria is a key factor in our success. We are blessed with a strong team of dedicated professionals, of high integrity, and deep knowledge and experience. Among such an amazing team, Maria is recognized as the cornerstone of our department, the go-to person for guidance and problem-solving, and the one to lead and represent the staff.

- A positive attitude and enthusiasm in the performance of their job

Grants projects are change agents tied to strict rules and performance expectations, which makes for challenging environments. Maria is always up for the challenge, and innovative in figuring out how to solve problems that emerge. She is always positive and helpful and contributes to the overall feeling of well-being in our office.

When assigned something new or when a question is raised, Maria goes out of her way to investigate and learn all she can about a situation, because she has a natural curiosity and interest in her work. This characteristic is one of the reasons that she is so well-informed and effective. She is interested in what we do, and committed to doing it well. She is also considerate, and goes out of her way to help project directors and staff members to find solutions and move forward.

- Working together with district and college personnel toward the achievement of the district's goals

Maria serves on the Fiscal Resource Committee as the district office's classified representative. In that role she is able to apply her extensive knowledge about budgeting and fiscal processes to contribute to shared governance.

- Going the "extra mile" in the performance of their job

Maria prioritizes the work. She will do what it takes to get it done, when it needs to be done. One aspect of being knowledgeable about grant programs and district processes is to know the consequence of a day's delay or inaccuracy. Her dedication is a professional commitment to optimal performance; to avoid creating problems by investing the time to do it right. This often shows up in staying late, or restructuring her vacation. The vast amount of work and dedication, all provided with a can-do attitude, should be broadly recognized, lauded, and inspire others.

I am humbled by Maria's professionalism and dedication. What I wrote does not do justice to her years of dedicated professionalism and or show how beloved she is by our team. I hope to have the opportunity to stand with others to honor her and shine light on her achievements and her character.

Sincerely,

Sarah Santoyo

Asst. Vice Chancellor, Educational Services
